The St. Albans School of Public Service
Accepting Applications for the Summer 2014 Program (Day And Residential)

Interesting in giving your rising high school senior son or daughter a taste of life at St. Albans? The St. Albans School of Public Service (SPS) is currently accepting applications for the summer 2014 program (June 22 - July 19). SPS lasts only four weeks each summer, but our students describe it as "life-changing." At SPS 35-40 rising high school seniors from all over the United States undertake an in-depth exploration of government, politics, and public service. Students in this coed program use the case study method to discuss and dissect public policy issues ranging from the debate over climate change, to the role of the media in modern political campaigns, to rising U.S. reliance on drone warfare to combat terrorism. The SPS faculty is comprised of current St. Albans faculty members, including the legendary Ted Eagles, who teaches a mini-seminar on the economics of public policy and leads small group outings to think tank events throughout the program.

Although the program brings together students from around the country and abroad, who live in the dorm at St. Albans, about 25% of the students each summer are from the D.C. metropolitan area and attend as day students. Financial aid is available. SPS uses a rolling admissions process and generally the program is fully subscribed by early April; however, spaces occasionally open up later in the spring so it is worth checking with SPS to see if spaces remain in April and beyond.

More information about the program, including the applications process, is available on the SPS section of the St. Albans website. For more information, interested students or parents may also call 202-537-5286 or email SPS Director Suzanne Woods.

Annual Giving Update

STRIVE for Annual Giving Challenge a Success - Thank You!

527 alumni contributed during the STRIVE for Annual Giving Challenge, exceeding our ambitious goal of 500 donors and thus securing $50,000 in additional funds.

Such an outstanding result properly earns you, and all the donors and volunteers who made this achievement possible, the School's deepest appreciation.

Coming Soon: The Preliminary Report of Annual Giving

Many thanks to the 1,524 alumni who have supported Annual Giving this year. Such steadfast generosity ensures that today's students have the same unrivaled experience as that of you and your classmates.

In a few weeks the School will mail you a copy of the 2013-2014 Preliminary Report of Annual Giving. When you receive it, please check your listing and correct any inaccuracies so a correct and complete report can be published this summer. Should you have questions, please contact the Office at 202-537-6409.

Alumni contributions sustain the unique elements of a St. Albans education. While you have until June 30, 2014 to support Annual Giving, why delay? If you haven't already, please consider making your gift today.

Director of Alumni Relations

The School is seeking a Director of Alumni Relations to serve as part of an established and successful Development and Alumni Relations team. This individual will work closely with the Executive Director of Alumni Relations to develop and implement strategies to involve all alumni through events, networking, service opportunities, communication and philanthropy. S/he will be responsible for working with alumni volunteers and coordinating events that engage all generations of alumni. To learn more about this position, click here.

Attention Class Secretaries:

Class Notes Deadline: 10/3/2014

Class notes and photographs (with captions) for the winter 2014-2015 issue of The Bulletin are due October 3, 2014. Please submit your updates to Robin Boswell by the deadline (in electronic format). We prefer higher resolution images (300 dpi to print 4 inches wide). The Bulletin cannot guarantee inclusion of any information arriving past the due date.

Keep Your Classmates Up-to-Date

To submit news to your class notes, please contact your class secretary by writing to the email address listed here.

If you are sending a photo, please send high resolution images (300 dpi to print 4 inches wide). If you have any questions or comments on the notes printed in the magazine, please contact your class secretary. St. Albans School is not responsible for the accuracy or the authenticity of class notes.
